102-year Old Artist to Sell Paintings on eBay for Benefit of Boys and Girls Club through Auction Inn

01.27.05, 5:57 PM ET

Ruth Sneider is 102 years old, graduated college at the age of 82, started painting at the age of 95 and is now fascinated by eBay! Ruth has amassed close to 1,000 pieces in her personal collection - so far! Ruth's artwork has previously been shown at the Suk Shuglie gallery in Lancaster, PA, where she sold approximately 20 paintings for between $200 and $400 each.

Ruth began using a computer at the age of 95 and became intrigued with the idea of bringing her passion to the Internet where her work can reach a wider audience. For this reason she has decided to work with Auction Inn, a social enterprise corporation in partnership with the Boys and Girls Clubs of Lancaster, to sell her artwork on eBay. Auction Inn has produced a showcase video to highlight Ruth's passion and motivation behind her paintings. Savannah King, a trainee of the Boys and Girls Club's Job Ready Training Program and employee of Connections Cafe, interviewed Ruth for the showcase piece, which is available for viewing at www.auctioninn.com. Individuals who would like to view the donated paintings and collage pieces can come to Auction Inn, located inside of Connections Cafe, at 241 West Lemon Street, Lancaster, PA.
